He is a Field Examiner for the State Board of Accounts assigned to the examination of state agencies. Prior to becoming a state employee he worked for Archdiocese of Indianapolis, GTE (now Verizon), and Geo. S. Olive & Co. (now BKD, LLP), in tax, accounting, and financial systems positions. John received his BA degree in Accounting from Marian University in Indianapolis and is licensed as a Certified Public Accountant in Indiana. He is also a member of the Association of Certified Fraud Examiners, and currently serves as Vice President of the Central Indiana Chapter ACFE.

“My membership in AGA has been very rewarding and has greatly enhanced my knowledge and experience in government accounting. I continue to immerse myself in any organization, to which I belong, in an effort to give back through active participation in the mission of the association. In that way I can more fully experience the benefits of membership than a simple passive observance can provide. I look forward to being elected to the Board of this chapter so I can continue to support its mission and thereby further my own goals and education.”

John and his wife Bonnie reside in Carmel, Indiana, and have two sons. He enjoys computers, reading and family time.
